Custom paintings according to clients needs are also available.

Jacques Philippe Hébert, "The Soul of Glass", is a pioneer force in a singular style who composes his works of art through the use of Murano glass as a medium which add a transparent fluidity to each painting.

His artistic expression comes alive through the metamorphosis of blown glass in which the artist fuses and amalgamates to his painted canvas. Vibrant colors, infinite shapes and three-dimensional quality, Hebert's glass immediately capture your senses. "Combine the fluidity and translucence of contemporary studio glass master Dale Chihuly, the strong linear rhythms, simple elongated forms and verticality of Amedeo Modigliani, and add the dimensional energy in the evolution of the work of American minimalist and sculptor Frank Stella, and then one can begin to sense the emerging and noteworthy creative body of work of Jacques Philippe Hébert." - Excerpt from Jeffrey A. Dering, DERING FINE ART, Artist Report, 12 October 2005.
